KENTUCKY STRAIGHT BOURBON WHISKEY FINISHED IN WHITE MOSCATEL CASKS

This Kentucky straight bourbon whiskey is aged 5-6 years in charred American white oak barrels. We then finish the bourbon in White Moscatel casks, a fortified wine, for an average of 3-6 months. White exotic fruits and floral notes shine through, creating a sweetness that complements the whiskey. Some barrels are allowed to finish for a year or more to bring through additional notes from the French oak barrel.

A BLEND OF STRAIGHT RYE WHISKEYS FINISHED IN AMBURANA AND SHERRY CASKS

A blend of 95% rye / 5% malted barley rye whiskey from Indiana, and 91% rye / 9% malted barley rye whiskey from Northern Kentucky. Initially aged 5-8 years, the liquid is then finished in Amburana and Sherry casks for 2-12 months. Amburana, a Brazilian hardwood, adds notes of spice. Oloroso and PX Sherry casks bring raisin and dried fruit notes. The sweet and spice combination of both finishes create a final balanced profile.
